

Developing Early Literacy Skills

Thursday, June 28, 2012

Biography

Yu-Ling Yeh

Yu-Ling Yeh has held various roles within the Head Start/Early Head Start Program at Akron Summit Community Action (ASCA), Inc., From 1990 to 1995, she served as an education administrator, responsible for the operation of 12 Child Development Centers. For the next two years, she worked as an operations administrator, where she created and monitored federal and state budgets of more than $7 million.

From 1997 to the present, Yu-Ling Yeh has served as an education consultant, a role that includes designing and implementing all aspects of educational programming for the Head Start and Early Head Start programs. She is the head investigator for ASCA with Akron Ready Steps, an Early Reading First grant, which is a collaborative project with the University of Akron (UA). In addition, she serves on the Early Childhood Education Advisory Committee at UA and is a member of the board of the Akron Area Association for the Education of Young Children.